Hey Lisa,

I would contact Patrick Lizon at Ecology. He's the staff-level listing person. Susan Braley is the supervisor. Other possibilities would be Ben Rau and Helen Bresler in the NPS program there, since the stats are related to ag. Yes, I would be the primary person from the Watershed Unit. And no problem, just let me know what you need!

Thank you, Jill. Dan wants Angela and I to call Melissa Gildersleeve to have ECY staff take a hard look at Larry's website. Who is the staff level contact who would be the appropriate person to help us set this up and follow through? And is it mainly you in WRU who should be in the loop on that conversation?

I am sorry about this firestorm.

That report is very out of date. The 305(b) type reporting was combined with the 303(d) list reported into what we call the Integrated Report, and Ecology calls their WQ Assessment. The most up to date data is what we were looking at in the assessment tool yesterday. We most recently approved it in Dec, 2012, and they are about to submit a new one for our review. What they are looking at then is data that is at least 13-15 years old.

Hi Jill,

Swinomish just called me and told me that they themselves are trying to reconstruct how they came up with the numbers on their website. In the meantime, they are also considering citing data from a 2001 report, <https://fortress.wa.gov/ecy/publications/documents/0110015.pdf>. It's the 2001 WA WQ Assessment Section 305(b) report, from January 2002.

Are you familiar with that report? Larry said it is the most recent report that ECY completed with the kind of analysis he was looking for.
